

Are you Expanding Your Network?

If you are not expanding your network, you could be making one of the biggest mistakes of your career.

Growing your network by building meaningful relationships can help you in ways you may not have envisioned. It is all about, who you know, and more importantly who knows you. Regardless of whether you are in sales or marketing, engineering, accounting, law or another field, the right network can boost your efforts.

This workshop is not a lecture, it is an interactive discussion. The goal is to help you appreciate the value of networking, reduce your inhibitions and make you comfortable with the concept of networking.

Not having the time or interest, or not being comfortable, are reasons that prevent many of us from networking. Don't undermine yourself. Come learn to network, so you can become visible in the business community, in your industry, and in your company.

“Networking is not a choice, it is a must if you want to get ahead.”

— Ravi Kathuria

RAVI KATHURIA is a recognized thought leader. Quoted in The Wall Street Journal, Barron's, WorldNews, and featured on CBS Radio and the BusinessMakers Show, he is the author of the highly acclaimed leadership parable, THE COHERENT COMPANY.

President of Cohegic, a management consulting, executive coaching and sales coaching firm, Kathuria is president of the Houston Strategy Forum. A thought provoking and vivacious speaker, he has captivated business audiences at numerous conferences, association events, and corporate meetings.

A LEADERSHIP PARABLE

